

CERTIFICATE IV IN GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATIONS (PSP40416)

Public Access Program | Melbourne June 2019
accelerated blended delivery – suitability guidelines apply

The Certificate IV in Government Investigations (PSP40416) is prescribed by the Australian Government Investigations Standards (AGIS) as the minimum qualification required by people engaged to work as a government investigator. Occupational fields include employment investigations, regulatory compliance, professional standards and fraud/corruption control.

It is usually delivered internally for groups of people from the same workplace and this program provides a pathway for people who do not have the opportunity to participate in a course delivered at their workplace.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATIONS STANDARDS 2011

1.5 Investigator qualifications

The minimum level of training or qualification recommended for investigations staff are:

- Certificate IV in Government (Investigation), or equivalent, ... This qualification should be obtained before an officer is primarily engaged as an investigator; otherwise the officer should be under the supervision of a qualified investigator.

SUITABILITY GUIDE: Currently employed to conduct formal workplace investigations or regulatory compliance; or with employment experience in law enforcement or auditing; or hold an Australian law/accounting qualification.

People interested in this course who do meet the above description, but believe they could successfully complete this course, should contact the course coordinator to discuss suitability prior to enrolment.
